

SNOW RULES

The classes and rules for the King of the Bay are similar to the International Snowmobile Association (ISR) rules. We have modified some classes to better fit the entries we historically have in this area and in an attempt to keep everything as fair as possible.

Stock

Stock means stock! You can clutch and fuel injected sleds will be allowed to have fuel programmers. This is the same as jetting – nothing else. No pipes or cans allowed!

Improved Stock

This is a stock sled. Pipes are allowed. May remove airbox. Clutch primary or secondary allowed. Head light may be removed. Track suspension will be OEM for the brand.

4 – Stroke Stock

Apex & Nitros will race in this class (4 – stroke sleds can enter in 800 and above classes)

- Stock means stock!
- You can clutch and fuel injected sleds will be allowed to have fuel programmers. This is the same as jetting – nothing else!
- No pipes or cams allowed!

4 – Stroke Improved Stock

- This is a stock sled.
- Pipes are allowed.
- May remove airbox.
- Any clutch primary or secondary allowed.
- Head light may be removed.
- Track suspension will be OEM for the brand.

Stock Factory Turbo

Snow only class. Stock means stock. Trail studs only. Premium pump gas only. Yamahas with factory option MPI Supercharger or turbo will be allowed to run in this class.

Improved Stock Factory Turbo

SNOW – trail studs only ICE –chisels and/pr picks. Stock sleds with the following allowed mods: Open exhaust, cold air intake, reflash ECU, and fuel controller (power commander, boondocker). Race fuel allowed. No turbo mods – stock turbo only. Turbos will be inspected.

Lake Racer

Stock sled. Motor mods allowed. Ignitions allowed. 1 power adder allowed. Any studs allowed. Rear skids – can be exchanged for same manufacturer (NO PROLINES ALLOWED) Turbo will be limited to no larger than a cast wheel 3071 Garrett Turbo or approximately 50mm. If sled has billet wheel turbo, size will be limited to a 40mm. Superchargers will be limited to a MPI Stage 3 kit. Turbo will be inspected.

King of the Bay / Open

Any sled can enter. Any chassis. (outlaw)